Kiuwan's Technical Support service can be used to get in contact with the Kiuwan support team to submit incidents, queries, etc.

Your request will create a support ticket that will track all the details of your issue.

Submitting a request can be done through three different channels:

- by email
- through the Help Widget
- from the Kiuwan Help Center

Whatever channel you use, you will be able to manage and view all your tickets in the Kiuwan Help Center.

How to access Kiuwan's Technical Support

1. Send an e-mail to Kiuwan Support

The easiest way to create a support request is by sending an e-mail to support@kiuwan.com.

As soon as this email is received, a support ticket is created and you will receive an acknowledgment message with your request-id.

Your request (456) has been received and is being reviewed by our support staff.

Additionally to support@kiuwan.com, you can also use jelly.service@kiuwan.com. Both support email addresses are equivalent.

2. Use the Kiuwan Help Widget

You can also create a ticket from the Help widget.

The Help Widget is available when you log in to your Kiuwan account, and you can find it at the bottom-right of any page.

Click on the Help Widget to open it.

Once logged in at the Kiuwan Help Center, you can create a new request by clicking on Submit a request.

The Submit a request form will be displayed when you can enter the subject and content of your request.

Note that as you type your subject, the Help Center will display some recommended articles related to your subject.

The screenshot shows the 'Submit a request' form on the Kiuwan website. The form includes a 'Subject' field with the text 'I need to make Kiuwan integrate with SAP', a 'Description' field, a 'Priority' dropdown menu, and an 'Attachments' section. Below the form, there are 'Suggested articles' including 'Kiuwan Single Sign-On (SSO)', 'Kiuwan plugin for VS Code', and 'How can I analyze SAP (ABAP) code with Kiuwan?'. The Kiuwan logo and navigation links are visible at the top.

By clicking on any of the suggested articles you will be redirected to the article.

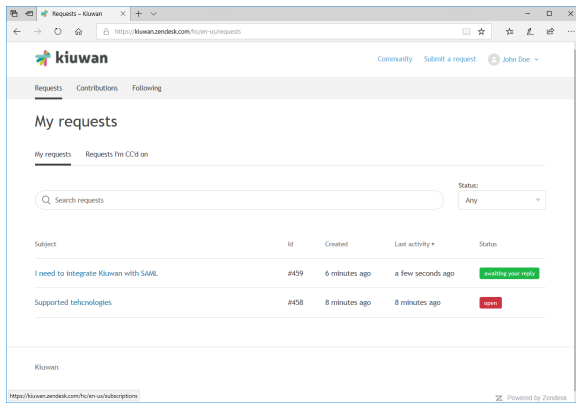

You can create as many tickets as you need.

How to view my requests

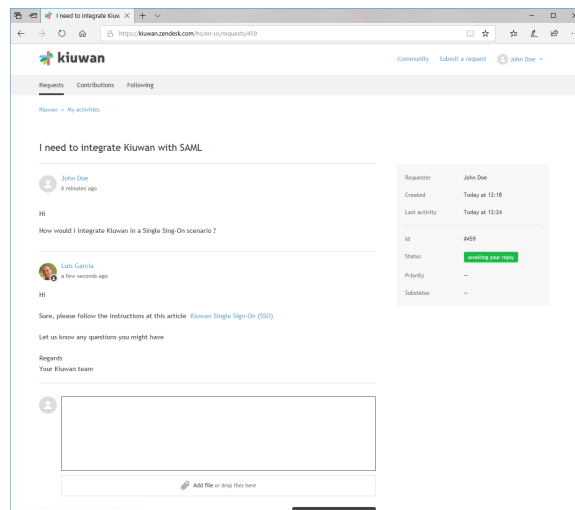

To view all your requests you should select Requests in the drop-down menu.

Then you will be presented with the list of your support requests

Just click on the link of any of the requests and you will be able to access the full history as well as responses to any message.

Viewing all the requests of my Kiuwan account

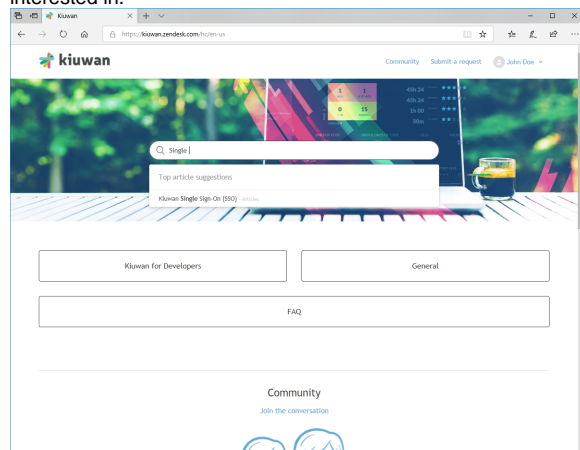

By default, you will only have access to tickets directly created by you.

Nevertheless, you can also see all the tickets for your Kiuwan account, not only yours. Which means also requests opened by other users of your Kiuwan account.

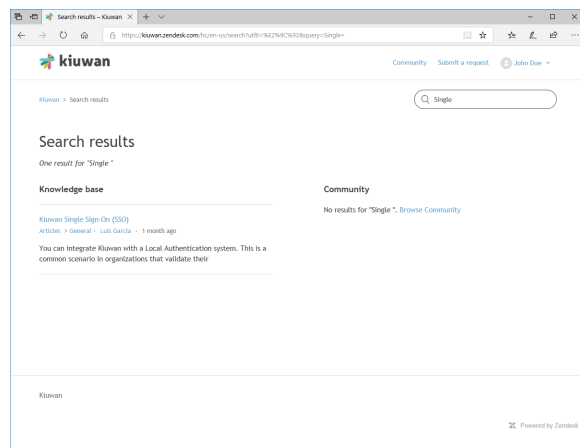

To get access to all your account's tickets please let us know by sending us a request.

Kiuwan Knowledge Base and Community

The Kiuwan Help Center provides a Knowledge Base where you can search for help on topics you are interested in.

You can type your query in the search box (which will be suggesting related content).

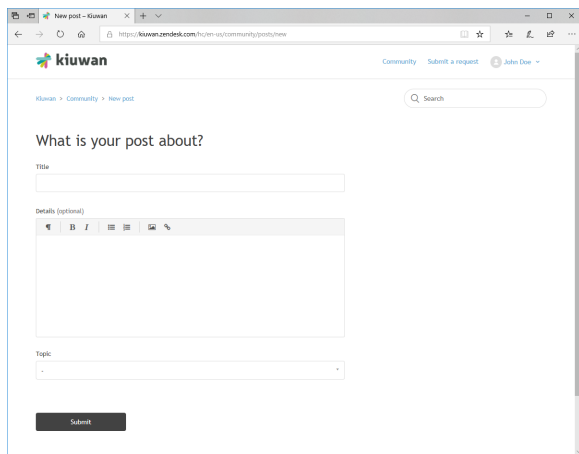

Search results come from two sources:

1. Knowledge Base
 - a. Articles published by Kiuwan on different topics and sections
2. Community
 - a. An open forum where Kiuwan's users make contributions via posts

You can post by accessing Community and clicking New Post

A new post form will be displayed.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the title 'New post - Kiuwan'. The address bar shows the URL 'https://kiuwan.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/community/posts/new'. The page header includes the Kiuwan logo, a 'Community' link, a 'Submit a request' button, and a user profile for 'John Doe'. The main content area is titled 'What is your post about?' and contains a 'Title' text input field. Below this is a 'Details (optional)' section with a rich text editor toolbar (bold, italic, list, link, image, and link icons) and a large text area. At the bottom of the form is a 'Topic' dropdown menu and a 'Submit' button.

Enter your query and click submit. Other users of the community, including our support team, will reply as soon as possible.
